Hutcheson Judge

Robert F. Hutcheson, of Charlotte Courthouse, was appointed judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit Friday afternoon by Governor Trinkle, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge George J. Hundley. His term of office will begin April 21, and end thirty days after the next General Assembly convenes.

The fight for the judgship was the warmest and the closest in the history of such contests. Governor Trinkle had announced that the appointment would go to the man who received indorsements from the majority of the members of the bar of the Fifth Circuit. Late Thursday afternoon only two members were in the race—A. B. Jenkinson, of Farmville, being the only survivor of the half dozen candidates who opposed Mr. Hutcheson, a week ago.

It was understood Thursday that Mr. Hutcheson had sixteen endorsements to Mr. Dickinson's fourteen. Governor Trinkle informed supporters of both candidates that he would announce his decision at 11 o'clock Friday morning, but when they assembled in the executive offices at the hour it developed that several of the indorsers on both sides had been challenged on the ground that they were not practicing attorneys in the Fifth Circuit at this time.

The alignment early in the morning is understood to have changed, Mr. Dickinson receiving the indorsement of an attorney who had not taken part in the contest, and one of Mr. Hutcheson's supporters having switched, making the "vote" stand 16 to 15 in favor of Mr. Dickinson. Three of the Dickinson votes were challenged successfully, reducing the number of his bona-fide indorsements to thirteen. The Dickinson contingent then challenged four Hutcheson supporters and two of them were stricken from the list of indorsers. The vote then stood 13 to 13. and the contest apparently had reached an impasse.

Later in the day Governor Trinkle reinstated one of the Hutcheson supporters, holding that he had been disqualified without due cause from having a voice in the matter. This made the bar of the Fifth Circuit stand 14 for Hutcheson and 13 for Dickinson. The appointment was announced shortly before 3 o'lock.

Judge Hutcheson was born in Charlotte County August 20, 1873. He was educated at Hampden Sidney College, graduating third in his class in 1896 with the degree of A. B. He then taught school for several years at the Danville Military Institute. Later he took up the study of law at Washington and Lee University, graduating with the degree of B. L. in 1909

SERVED IN THE HOUSE

Since that date Judge Hutcheson has practiced law in Charlotte Courthouse as a member of the firm of Hutcheson & Early. In 1919 he was elected to the House of Delegates to succeed Berkly D. Adams, who had resigned to become a member of the State Corporation Commission. Judge Hutcheson served at the extra session of 1919 and the regular session of 1920. He did not stand for re-election.

Judge Hutcheson is married, the father of four children, and an elder in the Presbyterian Church. He received the indorsement of many prominent men in his district, including Senator S. L. Ferguson, of Appomatox; J. Kent Early, of Charlotte; Delegate J. R. Horsley, of Appomattox, and Joel Flood. It is understood that he had the indorsement of three counties—Charlotte, Appomattox and Buckingham, while Mr Dickinson had the indorsement of Prince Edward and Cumberland. Don P. Halsey, of Lynchburg, led the Dickinson contingent.—Times-Dispatch.

Democratic Appeal

No government is truly Democratic unless it is controlled by the people and this control can only be exercised at the ballot box.

A citizen who fails to vote because of his indifference not only surrenders a sacred right and shirks a solemn duty, but he undermines the very basis of popular government.

The Virginia law provides that all citizens except civil war veterans must pay their poll taxes six months before each election.

A citizen who omits to register or pay his or her poll tax as required by law suffers voluntary disfranchisement.

As chairman of the Democratic party of Virginia I urge all Democrats to pay their poll taxes before May 3rd, so that they can vote in the election next November. We should give the Democratic nominee for President the greatest majority in the history of Virginia and re-elect all ten Democratic congressmen.

A great national Democratic victory is impending and Virginia must do her part. The great body of citizenship of this country are contrasting the honest administration and fine ideals of Woodrow Wilson with the sordid and humiliating spectacle of official corruption and incompetence at Washington under the Republican administration.

As this government is a government of parties, the people can only look to the Democratic party for redemption.

When a Democratic president takes his seat next March we will be glad to feel that this commonwealth has been true to herself and her traditions and that in the proud procession of Democratic states Virginia will be well to the front.

H. F. BYRD, Ch. State Com.

For Congress

The district committee met at Staunton yesterday and decided to hold a primary for Congress.

Candidates must file notice of candidacy with Chairman S. L. Ferguson here on or before June 5th.

There will probably be no candidate for the nomination in opposition to Mr. Tucker, who has made a faithful representative and we expect him to be declared the party's nominee without opposition.

Darlington Heights

Farmers are very much delayed with the spring work owing to the frequent rains. I think that the early fruit has been damaged by the cold, but hope the apples are not hurt.

Edward Shorter died at his home on Tuesday the 8th, after a long and lingering illness. He had conducted a mercantile business here for many years. His deeds of kindness and thoughtful consideration of his fellow men endeared him to the entire community. We can truthfully say a good and useful man has gone to his reward. We extend sympathy to his wife, three sons and four daughters, who mourn their loss.

Mrs. J. W. Thackston who has for 5 weeks been in St. Luke's hospital Richmond, is said to be somewhat better. Her daughter and husband are expected home today from a visit to her.

Mrs. E. B. Towler who has been so ill is slowly improving. Her daughter Mrs. T. H. Snead of Kentucky, is still with her. Miss Josephine has resumed her work at Bethel school and her son Eugene Jr., has returned to his place of business at Kent, Va.

Mrs. J. T. Baker and children spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Edward Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson and son David, were recent visitors in the home of H. H. Dobbins.

Mrs. J. L. Edwards who left about ten days ago for South Boston hospital, is reported to be getting on as well as could be expected.

Miss Janet Cralle, who teaches Spring Hill school spent the week-end at her home at Actopo, Va.

Mrs. Mattie Davis who is visiting her son H. D. Davis, has been suffering slightly from a fall.

Herman Thackston of Charlotte C. H., spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. John P. Baker.

Nathan Bell returned home Saturday after spending several days in Richmond, where he went to see his son Richard, whose condition is some better.

Ernest Towler is now owner of a new Ford car, we will now see who his best girl is.

Mrs. Sam Thackston and little son Curtis, have been suffering with tonsilitis.

L. B. Cash is busy working on his new dwelling and hopes to soon have it completed.

Sam Biggers who has been in a Richmond Sanitorium, for some time is said to be improving.

T. H. Garrett continues very feeble, though still able to get out some and always at church if possible.

Around Piny Mt

Spring has come at last with its Ayril showers, song birds and daffodills.

Tudor Carter has la grippe.

Berlie Nowlin and William Bingham spent the week-end at home.

Mrs Bettie Riley and family have been sick with flu, but are better at this writing.

Miss Bernice Bingham has returned home after a visit to her cousin, Miss Ellie Ferguson, of Appomattox, who is sick.

Mrs. Sallie F. Rogers is on the sick list.

In Memoriam

SMITH—In sad but loving memory of our beloved husband, Fields Smith, who departed this life one year ago, April 14th, 1923.

God doeth his best,
Oft how we often
He list not to his call,
Hasts oft to him to grant it ever,
Though he had to leave us all.

A husband so dear,
A father so kind,
His place can ne'er be filled,
For all of us he did his best,
God grant him entrance to rest.

CHEVROLET

Without counting the daily utility of a Chevrolet for going back and forth to work, shopping or taking the children to school, etc., its value in saving doctor's bills, broadening your mental horizon and keeping the whole family physically fit, amounts to more than the cost of the car and its upkeep. It is more of an essential to the modern family than anything else but a home Chevrolet meets the requirements of the modern family because it is economical to buy and maintain, because of its excellent appearance and riding comfort, because it can be depended upon, and because it is so easy to drive that any member of the family can use it.

The Co-Ops had a meeting at the auditorium here today and was addressed by Mr. Craig on the matter of establishing a credit bank for the farmers at Appomattox. Nothing was done and while Appomattox is intensely co-operative some of our people say that our local banks meet every need of our farmers. We rather see our idle factory busy working up our own tobacco first. This would pay Appomattox better. Further study will be made.

Mrs. A. B. Thornhill

At a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Liberty Chapel Baptist church, the following resolutions were read and adopted:

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to call from our midst to her eternal reward our beloved and faithful vice-president Mrs. A. B. Thornhill, therefore, be it resolved:

First, That in her death our Missionary Society has lost an earnest and most worthy officer, our church a loyal member, and our community a christian character.

Second, While we deeply feel the loss of one so gifted with lovable qualities, yet we bow in submission to His will, feeling that she has left an influence that should be an inspiration to those who remain to carry on the Master's work.

Third, That we extend to her beloved and bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in their loneliness and sorrow, and commend them to the tender care of our merciful Heavenly Father.

Fourth, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy spread upon the record of our society and a copy given out for publication.

VERA

Despite the fact that the weather has been very unpropitious, the farmers seem to have gotton a great deal of land fallowed; and they are now busy hauling fertilizer and preparing land for the next tobacco season.

The people of this section are very much stirred up over the fact that the road Commissioner for this district has not used any of the gas tax or state funds on our roads; but is using it to improve his section of the district. A petition is being circulated to present to Mr. Shirley to see if he won't have a part of it used on these roads which are, and have been all the winter, in a deplorable condition.

People are still buying cars regardless of the condition of our roads. George Robertson is the latest purchaser of a new car in this section.

Walker, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beale, is either a very smart or very lucky little boy—he set a steel trap to catch a hawk that was catching his mother's chickens and was rewarded for it a short while he had Mr. Hawk, he re-set the trap and the same evening caught another. Keep up the good work Walker and you'll soon be rid of the pesky things.

The faculty and pupils of Liberty Chapel high school, presented to a packed house, the play "Just For Fun" Saturday night. The verdict of those who saw it, was that it was great; each seemed to fit his part so well that special mention could not be made of any one in particular. Proceeds of about $50 will be used for school improvements. The supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Childers on the same night for the benefit of the Methodist parsonage was also a success.

On Thursday morning about 5 o'clock the residence of Saul McCormick at Bent Creek, was burned. Mr. McCormick was very badly burned and is confined to his bed. The sympathy of this community goes out to him in his hour of distress.

A. Nutticombe has returned from Charlottesville, where he visited his aged mother to celebrate her birthday on the 8th.

Miss Marcia Childers of Lynchburg, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Childers.

Miss Addie Childers also spent the week-end with home people and had as her guest Miss Sue Elder. They returned to their school at Graham Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Meggingon and children, Miss Edna Meggingson, and Miss Florence Grow spent Sunday with Mrs. Meggingon's parents Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morgan, at Andersonville.

WITHIN HOLLERIN' DISTANCE

The Ozark mountain folks of Missouri have their own definitions of success. You must if you would get even "within hollerin' distance," they hold, have a backbone that will teach your relations its place. Alice Currtice Moyer-Wing, Ozarkian, and proud of it, ascribes all her victories to having a real Ozark backbone.

Her ultimate goal? It's to sit on the President's cabinet. "All things are possible and every new day brings its opportunities," says Mrs. Wing. "Many persons from my district are urging me to run for congress in 1924. Maybe I'll do it." How come—as the Southerners say—these ultra-progressive Missourians to be suggesting Congress to a woman?

It's a long story, at least three generations long. Grandfather gave up prospecting and family home for a concentration camp, in order to be an abolitionist in slave territory. Father and mother pioneered in an Ozark homestead. Mr. Curtice had to teach small Alice, for the county seat that is even now in a county without a railroad, offered little education save in primitive living.

A brief stretch of happy married life, and the young mother was widowed. Stenography gave her an opportunity to develop into an expert business correspondent, by "digging in," learning all details of the business. "It would have been the most veritable drudgery—that 16 years of side-tracking from the things I most wished to do," she acknowledges, "had it not been for my children that I was doing it. When the little ones were asleep and I had sewed on all the buttons and darned all the little stockings, I had an article or a story always at hand to work on, for which once in a while I received actual money.

"When my boy and girl grew up, I came to a point where I could choose. I became suffrage editor for newspapers and magazines—for pay. Then illness in my family drove me back to the Ozarks among the people of the hills. My stories of this campaign grew into a six years' series of Ozark character stories. Prior to the 1920 election, I made more than 300 political speeches, again in my hill country. I was one of the first two women in Missouri elected delegates-at-large to a national convention, and one of the first few in the United States.

"Governor Hyde appointed me head of the state industrial inspection department in 1921. It was the first instance in the United States in which a woman was made a member of a governor's cabinet. And I am making good, if I do say it, who shouldn't. My sympathies for people who work for a living came to me as first-hand experience."
